

Improving the Patient Experience through Integrated Care

Featured Speakers:

Edward Wroblewski

Edward Wroblewski spent 10 years in teaching and administration in school boards in Montreal. He then moved into executive roles in the automotive industry for 15 years, followed by 10 years in senior executive roles in the gas utilities across Canada. He completed his career providing human resources and labour relations advice to multinational corporations. Edward is now retired. He is married to Mary Ferguson-Paré and has 5 children and 14 grandchildren. Edward lives in Lakefield, Ontario on a 100 acre farm.

Pauline Pariser

Dr. Pariser has practiced family medicine for over 30 years and is the founder of the Taddle Creek Family Health Team. An Associate Professor in the Department of Family and Community Medicine, she is an award-winning teacher and in 2009 was named Family Physician of the Year for the Toronto region. In 2011, the Taddle Creek Family Health Team was recognized by the Ontario College of Family Physicians as Family Practice of the year. In 2012 she was appointed Associate Medical Director at University Health Network and Primary Care Lead for SCOPE (Seamless Care Optimizing the Patient Experience). She has led the Mid-West Toronto Health Link since 2013.

Susan Fitzpatrick

Susan Fitzpatrick was recently appointed Chief Executive Officer of the Toronto Central Local Health Integration Network. Prior to joining the LHIN, Susan was Associate Deputy Minister, Health System Delivery and Implementation, Ministry of Health and Long-term Care. As Associate Deputy Minister, Susan was responsible for bringing together health programs in LHINs, CCACs, Long-term Care and Physician Services, and creating alignment opportunities in order to deliver quality health services to patients. Susan is a results-oriented leader, strategic planner and a skilled negotiator with a capacity to engage stakeholders and build consensus across the broader health sector and within government.

Wade Petranik

Wade is a certified member of the Canadian College of Health Service Leaders (CHE) and professional accountant (CPA, CMA). He is the President and Chief Executive Officer of the Dryden Regional Health Centre since 2005, and a health care executive for the past 24 years. In his recent role as Chair of the OHA Small, Rural, and Northern Hospital Leadership Council, Wade recently co-chaired the Provincial Multi-Sector Health Hub Advisory Committee. He is also Chair of the North West Health Alliance, a shared service corporation of the 13 hospitals in Northwestern Ontario. Wade is a member of the North West LHIN's Integration Leadership Council.

Winnie Doyle

Winnie Doyle has over 35 years of experience in healthcare as a midwife, registered nurse, educator, and senior executive. Currently she is the Vice President and Chief Nursing Executive at St Joseph's Healthcare Hamilton which is part of St Joseph's Health System. Winnie has a very strong commitment to driving improvement, quality and patient engagement at both the local and system level. Winnie holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing, and a Masters of Nursing Administration. She is on the faculty of the School of Nursing McMaster University.